SANE Australia Mental Health Meet-Up

Date: 01/07/2021

Topic: Sleep and Wellbeing

Description: Many of us can struggle to get the amount and quality of sleep that we need, yet sleep is quite important for our mental health and wellbeing. Not getting enough sleep can be an early warning sign that we might not be doing so well mentally. In this chat we’ll come together to reflect and learn about how we can cope with our sleep concerns, and support each other.

HappyCastle (PSW)

Hi everyone! Welcome everyone to today’s Peer Group Chat talking about sleep! First, we’d like to acknowledge the Traditional Custodians of the various lands we’re all joining this event from. We pay deep respect to the Elders of those Countries, past and present, and we further extend that respect to any Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people joining this group tonight. This always was and always will be Aboriginal land.

This is a new peer support service. Because of this, we really value your thoughts on how it goes, so we will send a link to a short survey at the end of this chat for you to complete. While this survey is optional, it is a chance to provide feedback for us to improve our services. In case you might need to leave part way through the event, you can access the survey here now: https://sane.au1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_5uUF0sHjRKQ6wyW.

Tonight, peer support workers @TideIsTurning and @HappyCastle will be facilitating a discussion around the topic of sleep. Whether you have lived experience of complex mental health issues, you care for someone who does, or both, anyone could benefit from getting some better sleep. We’ll be moving through a number of discussion questions tonight, and it’s entirely up to you how much or how little you are comfortable with sharing. Some of the conversation may be heavy in nature as we talk about mental health struggles. @Otter, who moderates on the SANE Forums, is working behind the scenes to ensure our safety. If you’re having any technical difficulties, please see our FAQ.
We’re looking forward to creating a space where we can reflect and learn together and expand our ideas of managing our own sleep. Lastly, just so you’re aware, the transcript of this group will be made available for download afterwards on SANE’s Peer Support website.

Hi→

Hello @HappyCastle (PSW)

Welcome everyone! We’ll be starting the discussion shortly, and will just allow a bit more time for people to log on and join 🌞 In the meantime, feel free to introduce yourselves. I’m @HappyCastle

How are you both this evening?

@Alicat

How are you both this evening?

Hello @Otter (Moderator)

I’m good and cozy sitting up in bed

Hi there! @Shaz51 Nice to see you all tonight :)

Alicat

I am sitting in bed too @Alicat

Ongoing for many years, I find it hard to go to sleep before 12

For myself I have CKD and I go to the toilet 4 times a night @HappyCastle (PSW)

That sounds hard @Shaz51 I hope you have some warm ugg boots!

Alicat

I am a sleepy head once asleep

for my mr shaz , with anti anxiety meds he sleeps all night @HappyCastle (PSW)

Shaz51

Hello @bipolarbunny@Emelia8

Have you noticed that issues with your sleep are caused by anything? For example, a lot of stress or a reexperience of trauma may cause issues with our sleep.

For me, I struggle to sleep when I am stressed. I can ruminate on things from the past and get stuck in a cycle a little bit.

I may not recognise it in the moment, but yes. Often, it relates to what I like to call ‘busy brain’ where I just can’t seem to stop thinking and settle into sleep. These thoughts usually relate to some sort of stress or other trauma.

Hi @Tideis Turning

Shaz51

i am fine with phone and tv as i can fall asleep straight away but then getting up 4 or 5 times a night makes it very tiring

justme

Does anyone else experience nightmares?

Alicat

Yes with nightmares, I grind my teeth really bad

HappyCastle (PSW)

@Alicat I relate to the teeth grinding!

Zoe7

Yes @justme but more infrequent now with the help of meds

adge

On-going Sleep Deprivation & Broken Sleep causes severe Stress - & has impacts on MH. Here’s an example: 2 & 1/2 year ago I had Severe Pain in Shoulder from Bursitis - I could not Sleep any night for over 2 weeks (I usually Sleep on my Left Bursitis Shoulder Side). The combination of the Strong Bursitis & Sleep Deprivation (for over 2 weeks) Tipped me Over the Edge - I virtually had a Breakdown, as a Direct Result of it......

Shaz51

i know what you mean @adge

justme

Zoe7 yesm Ive heard of meds, great if helping, I try to journal it out if I can at this point, evening all bit tricky logging in

HappyCastle (PSW)

If we struggle with sleep, we can often try to manage it all by ourselves. But other people can really help in the process! If there are medical concerns, a professional like a GP or psychiatrist could help. Otherwise, other people in our life can help support us and help hold us accountable if we communicate that we’re wanting to sleep at certain times, or not use our phones past a particular hour. Do others already support you to get better sleep? If not, how do you think others might be able to help?

TideisTurning (PSW)

Hi @justme, @beth & @Forumuser. Glad to have all of you with us :)

Alicat

Think I would fight with my hubby if he said it’s bed time

Zoe7

I have a great GP and cpap machine but I cannot always use it as my trauma is related to my face being covered so it can often also set off the nightmares - it is tricky

justme

ta, Happy Castle, support to stay up later so dont wake in wee hours is useful, some days or nights I crash at 8 then awake real up before sun time..

adge

I do not usually have Nightmares @justme - I used to have "Night Panic Attacks" on occasion. Officially they are not Nightmares - Yet I screamed, & woke up in a terrible Fright, totally Disoriented (not knowing where I was) - I fell out of Bed during Night Panic Attacks, a few times....

justme

Sounds awful adge, it does seem nightmares and night panic attacks are echoes of trauma experiences in our stories eh

HappyCastle (PSW)

That wouldn’t have helped the shoulder @adge I’m glad that isn’t a regular occurrence for you

Shaz51 no help here , specialist is happy that my getting up 4 times a night is normal @HappyCastle (PSW)
I scared my Wife at that time (because I Screamed) - I’m not married now, so there is no-one to Scare if I Wake up in a Fright (from Night Panic attack).

Sleep may be thought of as a state of unconsciousness where we are unaware of external stimuli around us. Rest, meanwhile is an activity aimed at increasing physical and mental wellbeing, but which are more aware of our surroundings. What does rest look like for you?

My cat oft comforts in wee hours when my fella sound asleep, hes-† hard of hearing so I can slip out and journal adge rest is a deep state of calm for me....

Meditation, when it works well, can be a really good way to shut off my thoughts and really relaxing too - more relaxing than sleep sometimes!

I have always been a very Light Sleeper - If a Pin dropped on the Floor, it would probably wake me up....

Rest for me is not doing anything and not thinking about anything - that is putting all that I need to do to the side for later - fur baby cuddles though of course.

Rest is zoning out on tv.

rest is totally doing nothing

Tv is more of an escape than rest

I’m not to sure if I do rest actually, I do a lot of nothing

Yes Meditation is very helpful - I use it as the Only Effective means to make up for Lost Sleep. I cannot Sleep or Nap during the Day at all @Otter (Moderator)

I find during the day I rest better if Im listening to something, a guided meditation or visualisation occupies my brain and blocks voices increasingly, so I can relax and drop in for rejuvenation..

For me, it depends on the kind of rest that I need. Often, it can be taking time out for myself. A walk after work, while it isn’t necessarily what you might immediately think of as “rest” can actually be a really good form of mental rest for me, as can going for a drive.

This article says that there are 7 types of rest that every person needs: https://ideas.ted.com/the-7-types-of-rest-that-every-person-needs . Does this article resonate with you? If so- how? Are there types of rest here you haven’t considered before?

Everything in that article makes so much sense! But I never stopped to consider it so deeply that there could be different kinds of rest.

The idea of sensory rest is interesting. Absolutely something I should focus on more!

I definitely need breaks /rest from stimuli

Some of it does @HappyCastle (PSW) I think identifying when you do need rest - from whatever source and in whatever way works for you is key

Love the idea of creative rest Happy Castle, I find visuals can be so soothing....
Yes @justme. Maybe that explains why I'm such a theatre nerd! :)
I agree @justme I am a real visual person so looking at things that are pleasing to the eye can be restful. I love watching water run in a stream
Yes Zoe 7 awareness of when need rest is crucial, being tired turns everything up in volume...aaahhh water, waves to shore, ripples
This might be a good time to ask this question!
What do you do to promote better sleep?- Do you have any particular habits, strategies, or techniques that help?
Wow! That was fabulous, thank you do rest especially emotional, sensory and spiritual rest. I know the feeling when I need space and having a sensory overload. I just thought that I was being triggered, now I can see it as I need to rest and disconnect to energise.
I use a sleep machine in my room at night, the white noise really helps me. If it stops for some reason, I wake up straight away. So I relate to what you said before @adige about sleeping lightly!
For me, it can be things like avoiding any caffeine after a certain time and other relaxing things to help me settle
I have quite a lot of meds For me they are essential as there were years where I barely slept - maybe an hour or 2 a night and I was very unwell. Now in order to maintain my current managed depression I do need to keep on top of sleep - so meds it is.
A warm cup of something creamy and honey filled before bed, yep meds to kick patterns back in, cuddles yes mine is my night time meds and also cutting back on protein, salt , sugar etc to help me Having one of the aforementioned fur babies nod off at the same time as you is very comforting also :)
Yep night meds and reading
@justme yes! A warm milk and honey is what I have always had. So soothing
No Caffeine for me after about 4.20pm - That was a Doctor’s General Advice (for anyone), years ago.
yes i agree and i miss my furbabies @Otter (Moderator)
@Otter (Moderator)~†My fur baby takes himself to bed when I am beginning to get ready to do so also - so no worries about him sleeping. I also now have my squishy face (kitten) that comes to bed with us.
I use Herbal Remedies like Valerian & Nutmeg - They help me feel more Relaxed, & drowsy....
Love puppy hugs!
yes adge! Motherwort, Leonuris cardiaca is great too, chill tea brew
Chamomile Tea is Good, it helps with Relaxation & Sleep - but I hate the Taste of Chamomile (yuk like Pee) Smells bad too!
ha ha totally HappyCastle (PSW) I also like to stretch before bed. I find that helps too. Does anyone else do that?
adge I shall have to look that Motherwort, Leonurus cardiaca up @justme justme Motherwort→† doesn't taste great either but it kicks in and does the job....bitter but goooood no , i get lots of cramps @HappyCastle (PSW)
Shaz51 Yes Stretching Before Bed does help @HappyCastle (PSW)
Zoe7 Going to jump in here for anyone that does have medication that it is a good idea to consult your GP before taking anything else not prescribed. Some of what you have mentioned @justme reacts with my current meds and the side effects are horrible - headache, nausea justme Meds taste pretty * if you chew em too! Yoga can be useful eh adge If I Stretch to get some of the Kinks & Aches out of my Joints (Before Bed) - Then I maybe have Less Back Pain, & Less Neck & Shoulder Pain during the Night.....
HappyCastle (PSW) I feel like everyone here has had lots of experience and tried a lot of different things to help with their sleep. Have you learned anything helpful from others' experiences here tonight that you might be able to apply in your own life? If yes, what was it that you took away?
Shaz51 very true , i cant take anything because of the kidney disease @Zoe7 justme Well said Zoe 7, always good to check it out before imbibe anything Alicat Yes...that rest is different to sleeping and I wish I could snuggle with a puppy or pusssycat.
Zoe7 Does Jelly cat not snuggle @adge~†? You can borrow Clover then adge My Stimulant Medication (from Sleep Dr Specialist) can React with other Prescription drugs - Not usually with Herbal stuff.....
Zoe7 I think I have the sleep thing under as much control as I can for now @HappyCastle (PSW)~†but it has taken years to get to that point. I am still struggling with the machine but the more I use it the better I should get (hopefully) - as long as it doesn't trigger nightmares...
Otter (Moderator) Hadn't thought of doing yoga or stretches before bed for more comfortable and deeper sleep, will have to give it a go!
adge Oh Yes I would love to borrow Clover @Zoe7~†- Jelly doesn’t Snuggle at night.
Zoe7 You can have custody of her on alternate nights @adge LOL
HappyCastle (PSW) I found the article with the different types of rest particularly helpful, I've haven't really thought about it in those terms, so that was a great take away for me tonight
Zoe7 I find it hard to sleep without my fur babies - especially Toby - I don’t feel as safe in a way without him
Alicat Thank you everyone..sweet dreams
Tonight’s topic may have brought up some uncomfortable feelings as we talked about sleep and how it can be difficult for us sometimes. Would some self-care be helpful for you after we finish? If so, what might you do? (Hopefully have a big sleep!)

Jelly Cat does Purr very Loudly (like a LawnMower) - The closer she moves to me (or the more I Pat her), the Louder she Purrs....

Read that article again for sure, nighty

I have a date with the footy @HappyCastle (PSW) and maybe something creamy as @justme suggested

I can barely hear Clover purr so you will not be woken by her

I’m going to eat some cheesecake... that’s creamy and will help right?

LOL @HappyCastle (PSW) not sure that is what @justme meant but if it works...

Cheesecake Helps with Absolutely Everything @HappyCastle (PSW)

Wisdom is what works eh

So does Cheese in general....

You had me at cheese!

ohhh yes cheese yummm @adge

Funny thing is a Piece of Cheese (or some Milk) before Bed - Helps me to get to Sleep.

no cheese lover @HappyCastle (PSW)

I can feel my IBS playing up with just the mention of cheese....

lol @Zoe7 apologies!

ha ha me too @Zoe7

Dairy has 5HTP in it which is some funky brain chill outer, bump cant have it...

I am laughing here @HappyCastle (PSW) @adge @Shaz51 @justme

Cheese doesn’t affect my IBS - In fact it Helps it....

We’d like to invite you to complete a survey reflecting on your experience in this Peer Group Chat. We’d love to hear any feedback you may have. It will only take a few minutes to complete. Please click this link: https://sane.au1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_5uUF0sHJRQ6wyW

What a fun way to end the night - thank you all for the laughs!

i don’t care, i just love cheese @adge

Thanks so much guys - it was a blast!
adge		Me neither @Shaz51
adge		Gotto have Cheese.....
Shaz51 thanks and see you soon @Otter (Moderator)
Zoe7		Sleep well everyone ...and yes that was tongue in cheek
Shaz51 ha ha just my usual night @Zoe7
Zoe7		Hearing you @Shaz51
HappyCastle (PSW) Thank you for joining, and we hope you enjoyed the discussion. If you’d like to be informed when our next Peer Group Chat will be taking place, you can sign up to our mailing list here https://www.sane.org/peer-support/peer-group-chat. You can also ask a question for our next topic and suggest your own! And you can read the transcripts of all our previous topics too 😊 justme Thanks all TideisTurning (PSW) Thanks everyone for joining us this evening and sharing your ideas and insights! :)
